SilverTape – Direct Foam

SilverTape® 5004, 5005, 5046, 5008, 5032, 5011

These products are double sided high performance acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed for a wide variety of materials with high and medium surface. The tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials. These products are very suitable for bonding a wide variety of materials with high and medium surface energy. Because of their toughness, these tapes are, when used on the right substrates with high surface energy, the strongest bond we are able to produce. This acrylic foam tape has a very high temperature resistance. In combination with a primer this SilverTape family guarantees excellent adhesion performance even on medium surface energy materials.

SilverTape – Transparent

SilverTape® 5305, 5308, 5310, 5315, 5320, 5325, 5321

Are double sided high performance acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed for the bonding of high and medium energy surfaces as well as glass and various transparent plastics where a highly transparent bond is required and no stress corrosion may occur. Due to their conformability they are capable of bonding a variety of different thin and structured materials full surface and tension free. The tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials. Important is to avoid stress and tension on the bond during application. This 53-series maintain high impact resistance even at temperatures below 0 °Celsius. More advantages: vibration dampening, very good sealing properties, very good resistance to weathering, aging, yellowing (UV influence), chemicals, plasticizers, resulting in excellent long term stability energy materials.

SilverTape – General purpose (coating 40)

SilverTape® 5326, 5323, 5319, 5336, 5335, 5339, 5341, 5345, 5347, 5355, 5356, 5357, 5390, 5391, 5392

These products are double sided acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed for the bonding of high and medium energy substrates. The tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials. These types maintain high impact resistance even at temperatures below 0 °Celsius. This 53-serie has a very high initial tack due to AFTC's coating 40 and has a very good plasticizer resistance. Advantage of the excellent adaptability is that thin or textured surfaces can be bonded full surface and tension free.

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape 5341-Series:

- Various high and medium surface energy plastics
- Glass
- Steel
- Aluminum
- Ceramics

Applications for SilverTape 5341-Series:

- Roof and wall panels
- Room dividers
- Trailerbuilding
- Paneldoors
- Roadsigns

SilverTape – Plastics (coating 50)

SilverTape® 5332, 5352

These products are double sided acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed to bond a wide variety of plastic substrates. The surface tension of these materials may require further developed products than our general purpose series. Where our coating 40 can be used in some cases of plastic applications, the coating 50 has been developed for applications where a better bond to plastics is needed and the use of primer is not desirable. These tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials which in plastics can be extremely high. These types maintain high impact resistance even at temperatures below 0°Celsius.

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape 5352-Series:

- Various medium and low surface energy plastics like;
 - o ABS
 - o ASA
 - o EVA
 - o PMMA
 - o PS
 - o PVC
 - o PC

Applications for SilverTape 5352-Series:

- Light domes
- Room dividers
- Trailerbuilding
- Paneldoors
- Roadsigns
- Signing

This modified multipurpose adhesive tape is suitable for (powder)coatings and several plastics with low energy surfaces (LSE) and has been specifically developed for applications where the use of a primer or adhesion promoter is not needed. High performance tapes from the 64 series have an excellent initial tack and adhesion during the application of powder coated surfaces, plastics, coated glass and other low surface energy surfaces. Other features include good plasticizer resistance and very good adaptability.

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape 64-Series:

- Several LSE surfaces like;
 - o Powdercoatings
 - o Plastics
 - o Coated glass

SilverTape – Transfer Tapes

SilverTape® 8302, 8402, 8502

These thin tapes are designed to adhere to various surfaces. The thin adhesive film allows a good adhesive performance on a variety of molded parts. These AFT Types have excellent UV, aging, solvent and high temperature resistance (+ 150 °C to + 260 ° Celsius). These series are in many situations virtually invisible and allow the usage of light weight, thin and small materials in many shapes and sizes. For difficult to bond surfaces, as being used in today's modern electronic assembly industry, we refer to SilverTape® AFT 8402 or AFT 8404. In situations where the bond needs to be invisible we recommend to use SilverTape® AFT 8502 and AFT 8504.

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape 83-Series:

- Glass
- Glass/epoxy
- Stainless steel
- Galvanized steel
- Anodized aluminum
- Coated aluminum

Applications for SilverTape 83-Series:

- Aluminum stiffeners
- Glass to aluminum
- Pre-powder coating
- Steel to aluminum (no bi-metal corrosion)
- High strength bonds

SilverTape – Pre-Powdercoating Tapes 60-Series

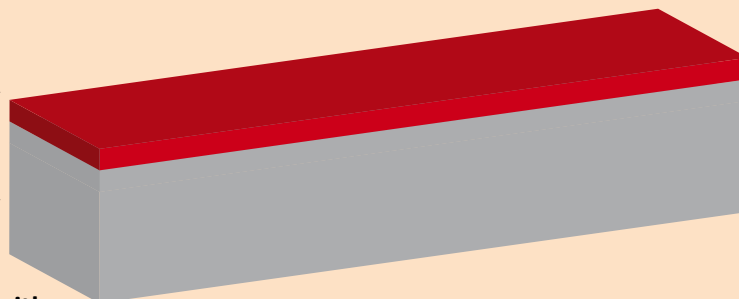

SilverTape® Industrial 6004, 6008 and 6011

Are double sided high performance acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed for metals like steel and aluminum that after bonding are powdercoated. These tapes are capable of resisting the extremely high temperatures of the powdercoating oven. Besides the high temperature they also are resistant to the chemical baths the bonded parts go through in the powdercoating process. The tapes are, after this process, still capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials and will stay viscoelastic even after going through the chemical baths and oven.

The 60-series are high performance double sided adhesive tapes with the highest inner strength, good shear and good peel properties. The tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials. One should avoid shear stress on both substrates during bonding. Due to their conformability they are capable of bonding a variety of different thin and structured materials full surface and tension free. Furthermore these AFT tapes find wide use in applications like reinforcement of profiles on aluminum facades and road signs. In combination with a primer this AFT tape family guarantees excellent adhesion performance. However, when using a primer, the tape is no longer suitable to the powdercoating process. Where the tapes have an excellent temperature resistance, the primer don't have this quality with a result of a burned primer and a low adhesion. For low surface energy applications we recommend our Low Surface Energy (LSE) tapes, the AFT 6404, AFT 6406, AFT 6408, AFT 6411 and the 6415..

SilverTape – Structural Glazing

SilverTape® SGG, SGB and SGW

These warranty products are double sided acrylic based adhesive tapes, which are especially designed for the bonding of high and medium energy substrates. The tapes are capable of absorbing the differing thermal expansions of the two different materials. These types maintain high impact resistance even at temperatures below 0 °Celsius. This SGG-series has a very high initial tack due to AFTC's coating 40 and has a very good plasticizer resistance. Advantage of the excellent adaptability is that thin or textured surfaces can be bonded full surface and tension free.

In combination with application advice, training and possible audits, these tapes can be used in warranty applications up to 25 years.

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape SGG Series:

- Various high and medium surface energy plastics
- Glass
- Steel
- Aluminum
- Ceramics

Applications for SilverTape SGG-Series:

- Structural glazing
- Cladding

SilverTape – Heat Activated 73, 74 & 76-Series

SilverTape® HA tapes are available in three different varieties with a strong parallel to the AM Series. The PSA side of the HA tapes is the same as the comparable 93-, 94-, and 96-Series and the bonding specifications, materials and applications are therefore the same as these AM tapes. The open side of these tapes though is inactive at ambient temperature. When exposed to heat sealing conditions, the heat activated part forms to most PP, PP-EPDM, TPE and other (soft) rubber substrates an immediate, secure and permanent bond.

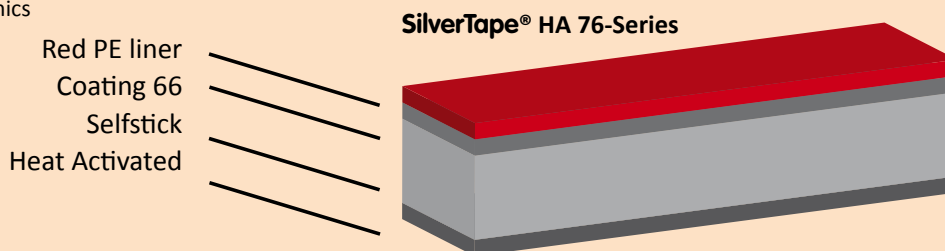

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape HA73-Series:

- Glass
- Stainless steel
- Anodized aluminum
- Glass/epoxy
- Galvanized steel
- Coated aluminum

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape HA74-Series:

- Various high and medium surface energy plastics
- Steel
- Ceramics
- Glass
- Aluminum

Materials suitable for bonding with SilverTape HA76- Series:

- Various medium and low surface energy plastics
- Silicones
- Teflon
- Powdercoatings
- Clearcoats
- Ceramic car paints

Applications for SilverTape HA-Series:

- Doorstrips
- Weather seals
- And more rubber vehicle parts.

Note: applications for all of AFTC's Automotive tapes are the above mentioned. However, depending on the materials and coatings used in the production of the parts, a choice between the different coatings will have to be made. This process will always require extensive tests.
